HITCHCOCK "MISTAKEN"

Misunderstanding Complicates the Situation - Jones's Case Is Held Up.

WASHINGTON, July 16 .- Paul M. Warburg of Kuhn, Loeb & Co. indicated pretty clearly to-day that he has no intention of the Senate committee the information it desired without in any way involving any humiliation to Mr. Warburg. It seems evident from to-day's developments. though, that Mr. Warburg will not permit himself to be put in the attitude of seek-

He sent this telegram to Representative Oglesby of New York, who had attempted exercise his good offices with Senator Hitchcock in favor of Mr. Warburg:

I have just been shown a despatch from Washington which will doubtless appear in to-morrow's papers setting forth in substance that you have opened negotiations in my behalf with Chairman Hitchcock looking toward my appearance before the committee and that you stated that my unwill-ingness to appear before the com-mittee was due to my fear as to the Scope of its inquiry.

I am sure that this report is incorrect and I very much hope you will correct it in time to prevent its publication in to-morrow's papers, making it clear that I neither authorized nor encouraged negotiations in my behalf. encouraged negotiations in my behalf. It is very important that this should be done clearly and promptly, inasmuch as the report which has already been sent out is an entirely incorrect statement of my position, the publication of which I should sincerely regret.

Mr. Oglesby's Reply.

To this Representative Oglesby replied: There is no foundation whatever for the report. I have not opened ne-gotiations in your behalf for any purpose whatever with any one. I could not do so for the reason that I have ever been authorized by you to take my representations of any character o any one on this or any other have not attempted to state your sition and could not, inasmuch as have no knowledge what your position is other than what has appeared in the public prints. I cannot believe Senator Hitchcock has been correctly Representative Oglesby's effort was well intended. He and Senator Hitchcock play golf together at the Country Club. Mr. Warburg is a constituent of Mr. Oglesby. Oglesby has been troubled greatly by the fact that two such good friends of his should be at cross purposes. He sought out Senator Hitchcock to-day and told him what an excellent man Mr. War-burg is and what a valuable member he would be in the Federal Reserve Board. After he had talked with Mr. Hitchcock the Senator talked with some of the news-paper men and Mr. Oglesby then talked to some of them, 2and Senator Hitchcock Oglesby went out to the golf links and the newspaper men wrote their Stories. Evidently there was a misunderstanding somewhere. Before Senator Hitchcock and Mr. Oglesby had finished the game at the Country Club the stories sent out from Washington regarding the negotiations met the eye of Mr. Warburg in New York and he sent his telegram. The message was delivered to Mr. Oglesby on the links at the Country Club and to-night Mr. Oglesby gave out the telegrams.

Suspected a Message.

Mr. Hitchcock evidently inferred that Mr. Hitchcock evidently inferred that Mr. Oglesby bore a message from Mr. Warburg. The Senator acted as if the visit of Mr. Oglesby was very pleasing to him and that it meant the beginning of negotiations that would end an unpleasant incident. As Senator Hitchcock explained the matter to the newspaper men Mr. Oglesby gave him the impression that Mr. Warburg was anxious to correct what Senator Hitchcock termed a "mis-what Senator Hitchcock termed a "mis-understanding."

Senator Hitchcock understood Mr.
Oglesby to say that Mr. Warburg de-clined to come before the committee be-cause he expected to be "heckled." Sena-tor Hitchcock said that he explained to Mr. Oglesby that there was no disposition to "heckle" Mr. Warburg.

"I told Mr. Oglesby that I simply wanted to ask Mr. Warburg a few questions about his business and his qualifications to fill the office for which he had been penjingted as no other witnesses had been nominated as no other witnesses had been called in his case. It was evident that the committee did not mean to try to humiliate him," said Mr. Hitchcock. The Senator said that he told Mr. Oglesby that he was certain that if Mr. Warburg had understood the real motive of the committee in inviting him to appear the "whole unpleasant business" might have been averted.

Representative Oglesby explained tonight that his good offices in the matter were tendered voluntarily and that Sen-ator Hitchcock evidently misunderstood

This misdirected energy, it is conceded, has further complicated the Warburg mater and rendered it less likely that the Banking and Currency Committee will reach a favorable conclusion on his case.

Mr. Jones's Case.

Administration Senators served notice others who are opposing the confirmation of Thomas D. Jones that no action on the promination would be permitted until the minority of the committee have had time to prepare and file a report.

Meanwhile the entire record as made up by the Judiciary Committee, with an adverse report on the nomination, will be forwarded to Mr. Jones at Chicago by the minority of the Banking and Currency Committee, and he will be invited to make reply to it, either by appearing per-sonally before the committee again or by a statement which may be embodied

In the minority report.

The necessary delay in getting a reply from Mr. Jones will afford the Administration the time it will require to try to rally its forces and overcome a hostile majority
